

The Nation's Health, August 2011, Volume 41, No. 6

Nation

Communities tackling asthma as number of U.S. cases increase: Nearly 10 percent of kids have asthma

Federal strategy to put wellness, prevention on front burner: Reform progressing

Q&A with infectious diseases specialist Ronald Valdiserri: Goal is to reduce HIV/AIDS transmission: HHS' 12 Cities Project seeks to share information across programs

Report finds too many U.S. roads deadly for pedestrians

Flu shot formula the same, but vaccinations still necessary

Public health achievements include decreases in preventable disease

Report calls for examination of chemical safety: National coalition notes difficulty determining exposures

USDA unveils new MyPlate meal icon to replace food pyramid

Nation in Brief

State & Local

Kentucky program brings produce to some Louisville corner stores

Online map offers national, state-by-state view of HIV epidemic

Vermont governor signs universal health care program into law

Globe

Safety campaign seeks changes on world's thoroughfares

WHO report: Disabilities affect 1 billion people worldwide

Healthy You

Stay healthy and infection-free at the gym

- Wash your hands before leaving

Health Findings

Health Findings

- Study: Mental disorders leading cause of disability in young people

General

Correction

APHA News

Health reform, prevention touted at APHA's first Midyear Meeting: Law improving health of Americans

APHA president, Executive Board candidates announced: Elections to be held at 139th APHA Annual Meeting in October

New APHA book a reference on school-based health centers: Promoting link between health, education

Public health workforce plans endangered by lack of funds

APHA releases transportation toolkit online

Make plans now for fifth annual Get Ready Day on Sept. 20

Annual Meeting closing session to spotlight worker health, safety

APHA Advocates

President's Column

Lessons learned, or lessons repeated? Thirty years of HIV/AIDS in America

Journal Watch

Journal Watch

Studies find banning menthol in cigarettes could save lives

Affiliates

Associations use advocacy to improve public health in states

Iowa Affiliate members pedal across state for public health

In Memoriam

Web-only News

Online-only: Comprehensive smoke-free laws would save billions, study finds [e28]

Online-only: Women less likely to receive treatment for heart attacks [e29]

Online-only: Indoor air quality could get worse as climate change advances, report says [e30]

Online-only: Public health extras: News on blood pressure, shingles, air pollution and more [e31]

Newsmakers: August 2011 [e32]

Resources: August 2011 [e33]