

The Nation's Health, July 2010, Volume 40, No. 5

Nation

New national vehicle emission standards a public health win: Americans support healthy transportation

Public health workers move ahead to reduce salt intake: IoM: FDA should act on sodium levels

More U.S. health workers being vaccinated against seasonal flu

E. coli levels drop, but food contamination concerns linger

New legislation would update aging U.S. chemicals safety law

Nation in Brief

State & Local

Kentucky effort engages restaurants to promote healthy eating habits

National Public Health Week celebrated nationwide: Health departments, schools, communities hold events

- College campuses work to make Colorado healthier
- Florida International University students take on full event schedule
- Chicago Lighthouse promotes exercise, wellness, activity
- DePaul students demonstrate that exercise is fun
- Tulane student leaders present wide range of public health events
- California county health department showcases a 'Healthier Sutter'
- Tennessee association's events blanket the state
- Indigenous health institute draws leaders to New Mexico
- Detroit health department showcases city health services
- Mississippi public health students connect with middle-schoolers
- Ohio association uses podcasts to serve as 'voice of public health'
- National board promotes exam for public health certification

States in Brief

Globe

Global health advocates call for attention to needs of city dwellers

Globe in Brief

Healthy You

Safety tips can help you avoid a fall

- Pet peeves: Watch out underfoot

Health Findings

Health Findings

- Fatal injuries on the rise among older U.S. adults, new study finds

APHA News

National Public Health Week 2010 a success: New APHA video highlights steps for "A Healthier America"

APHA summit to guide public health workers on health reform

Public Health Action campaign targets funding, nutrition, transit

New Learning Institute courses offered at APHA Annual Meeting

Books on violence, advocacy join APHA's growing publications list

Almost two dozen new Association policies proposed for consideration

Environmental public health finds new home on the Web

Six students chosen as winners of APHA's Get Ready Scholarship

- Excerpts from winning 2010 Get Ready Scholarship essays: Highlights from four of the winners

President's Column

Come together to build new vision for public health and prevention

Journal Watch

Journal Watch

Student Focus

Boston public health students protest dangerous intersection

Student emergency workers provide surge capacity: Partnerships benefit public health students, health departments

University of Washington students raise awareness of homelessness

APHA Student Assembly gets ready for sixth yearly meeting

Letters

Study on soda, cancer link inconclusive

Dairy avoidance may lead to unwise habits

In Memoriam

Web-only News

Online-only: Evidence supporting preventive measures for Alzheimer's disease insufficient, panel says

Online-only: Handwashing, masks, may limit transmission of pandemic flu

Online-only: White House unveils action plan to solve childhood obesity epidemic

Newsmakers: July 2010

Resources: July 2010