

The Nation's Health, August 2010, Volume 40, No. 6

Nation

U.S. Gulf oil spill poses public health threat: Response targeting workers, residents, food and air quality

New types of smokeless tobacco present growing risks for youth: Survey: Products mistaken for candy

Improving health literacy the target of new national strategy

IoM report: FDA's food safety approach in need of overhaul

HHS announces new investments in public health, prevention

School-based health centers play important role, report finds

Nation in Brief

State & Local

CDC: States could do a better job helping people be physically active

States in Brief

Globe

Global health advocates call for renewed focus on drug resistance

Globe in Brief

Healthy You <OA>

Get the facts on nutrition by reading your food labels

- Spot the Block: Tips for kids

Health Findings

Health Findings

APHA News

APHA supports new federal climate change research agenda

APHA announces candidates for president, Executive Board, officers

New APHA health textbooks target undergraduates

APHA 'Healthiest Nation' video named one of the world's best

APHA Press offers home for authors, resources for public health workers

Get Ready materials now in Spanish, H1N1 flu facts in Asian languages: Free materials on disaster preparedness

Health reform highlighted at APHA's 138th Annual Meeting

New APHA staff join conventions, publications, communications staff

APHA Advocates

President's Column

Living life with hope: Strategies for reducing teen birth rates

Journal Watch

Journal Watch

Affiliates

Connecticut Affiliate partnership brings health literacy to residents: Topics include healthy homes, nutrition

Massachusetts Affiliate moving the needle on state obesity rate

Letters

Fibromyalgia often disregarded, ignored

In Memoriam

Web-only News

Online-only: White House unveils plan to prevent, end homelessness [e26]

Online-only: Tight economy putting the squeeze on local health departments [e27]

Online-only: Public health extras: News roundup [e28]

Newsmakers: August 2010 [e29]

Resources: August 2010 [e30]