

The Nation's Health, February 2011, Volume 41, No. 1

Nation

Lawsuits creating challenges to historic health reform law: Multiple cases pending across nation

Report: Better measurement can improve U.S. health outcomes

New law will empower FDA to improve safety of U.S. food: Act requires inspections, improves recalls

- Child nutrition reauthorization encourages healthy eating

Surgeon general's report highlights new tobacco health impact findings

HHS: Insurers need to explain increases in premium rates

Q&A with infectious disease specialist William Schaffner: Preventing pneumococcal illness: Vaccines can prevent pneumococcal disease in all age groups

Nation in Brief

State & Local

Georgia ramps up HIV prevention efforts among gay, bisexual men

Report: State preparedness improves, but budget cuts loom

Washington health workers use travel to promote hand-washing

Globe

WHO report: Access to health services depends on robust health financing

Globe in Brief

Healthy You

Know how to keep safe, healthy in cold weather

- Take care when in your car

Health Findings

Health Findings

General

More than 1,500 professionals now certified in public health

APHA News

APHA annual congressional record: How members of Congress supported public health

- Five 2010 votes from the House of Representatives examined
- Congressional record: Five 2010 Senate votes examined

APHA's Midyear Meeting on implementing health reform law to be held June 23-25

Injury prevention focus of public health week

New APHA book focuses on public health nutrition, epidemiology

Get Ready campaign offers free hand-washing timers, new materials

Apply now for APHA's Get Ready Scholarship

APHA debuts free health webinars with experts

APHA member groups help advance continuing education

President's Column

Governmental public health at risk because of cuts to infrastructure

Journal Watch

Journal Watch

In Memoriam

Web-only News

Online-only: Dental therapists provide safe care for underserved populations, report finds [e1]

Online-only: Important health disparities topic of new CDC report [e2]

Online-only: Cancer pain common among survivors, study finds [e3]

Newsmakers: February 2011 [e4]

Resources: February 2011 [e5]